

Amendments to the Specification

Please amend the Field of the Invention at page 2 line 10 to add a missing space and correct the expression "contentthat" so that the Field of the Invention reads as follows:

The invention generally relates to viewing content with a wireless handheld device, and more particularly to viewing and interacting with content interactive content that is in a format incompatible with the handheld device, where an external system retrieves the incompatible content and converts it into compatible content.